TARIFF RETALIATION

Colombia Wants Damages From the United States.

HER TRADE PRACTICALLY RUINED

She Claims the Most Favored Nation Clause Protests Her Against Discrimination.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—General Ruzo, the representative from the republic of Colombia, expects to be authorized by his government to present a claim against the United States for damages sustained by Colombia by reason of tariff retaliation. Secretary Blaine effected reciprocity treaties with most of the South and Central American republics, but Colombia and a few other countries refused to make such treaties. They were warned that if they held out against reciprocity they would be retaliated against.

This failed to effect any arrangement. Thereupon, at the suggestion of Secretary of State John W. Foster, the United States proclaimed discriminating tariff rates against the coffee, hides, sugar and molasses of Colombia. This practically ruined the trade of Colombia, as her coffee and hides could not be sent to this country against the competition of Brazil, Mexico and other countries which enjoyed freedom from duty under the reciprocity treaty. These duties to the United States reached about $5,000,000 a year, a sum being worth about 40 cents, but immediately after the proclamation they fell almost nothing.

Colombia protested against the retaliation, claiming that the most favored nation clause of the treaty with the United States protected her against the tariff discrimination. Secretary Foster refused to consider the protest. She then carried on a sharp and very personal correspondence, and the minister finally left Washington with the statement that he would not return until the discrimination was effected. No settlement was ever adopted, and the submission of Colombia's claim for loss and damage sustained will be the result.

The Hughes Investigation.

FRESNO, May 31.—The investigation of Governor Hughes closes tomorrow after a session of thirty days. Inspector Thorne leaves tonight for Tucson, while Judge Oliver will stay Monday at Tucson, where testimony will be taken for one day. Democrats interested claim that every material charge has been sustained yesterday and today. Hon. J. D. Herndon, the Democratic candidate for delegate to congress last fall, was before the commission. The inquiry has been behind locked doors, yet much influence has been carried out by witnesses who had their stenographers present. Some appointees today swore they divided their salary with John T. Hughes, son and private secretary to the governor. The investigation was thorough, for it is thought the inspectors are in office and infidelity to the democratic party have been established. The governor's friends looked on with anxiety, for the committee and leading Democrats made but one request—remove the present incumbent.

An Interesting Question.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—An interesting question has arisen in the treasury department which involves the legal status of the word "polygamist." Commissioner General Smith of the immigration bureau has received applications for admission to this country of Robert Stenson, wife Kate, Barbara Hutton, Lizzie and seven children. These immigrants recently arrived at Quebec, Canada, from Glasgow and in their affidavits state they are Mormons in religion and faith. Before the word "polygamist" is applied to practice polygamy if so indicated on reaching their destination, Salt Lake City. The question involved is whether belief in polygamy of itself and in the absence of proof of any polygamous act brings the person within the intendment of the law denouncing such polygamists shall not be admitted into this country.

Protest Against Establishing Rival Salesrooms in New York.

Yuba City, May 31.—The afternoon session of the State Horticultural Society opened with a paper by N. P. Chapman of Red Bluff on "The Future of Growing Fruit in California." Other papers were read as follows: "The Fruit Grower's Profit," by W. H. Hammond of Biggs; "Growing Citrus Fruits," by S. S. Egerton of Oroville; "Floral Culture," by Mrs. R. C. Kells of Yuba City. Fruit reports were also received. The most important action was the adoption of resolutions, after discussion, of unanimous adoption, on matter of consolidation of the auction salesrooms in Eastern cities.

Whereas, We learn that there is a movement on foot to establish rival salesrooms in the city of New York, thereby perpetuating the serious evils of the past and defeating the expressed wishes of the growers, therefore be it resolved, That the fruit growers and shippers of California, do hereby protest against any movement in the city of New York, or elsewhere, for the purpose of establishing a rival salesroom, and we call upon fruit growers and shippers to stand by the pledge taken at the November convention, and to withhold their business and their support from any enterprise which would tend to defeat the desired end of the fruit growers.

A POLL OF CONGRESS

On Silver, the Tariff and Income Tax.

A FEW DETAILS BY STATES.

Only Fifteen Can Be Fairly Classed as Favoring a Single Gold Standard.

NEW YORK, June 1.—The World tomorrow will publish a telegraphic poll of the next congress, as far as obtained, on the silver, tariff and income tax. The World sums up the result as follows: In a general way it may be said that out of 116 members who gave unequivocal answers to the silver question fifty-five are in favor of free coinage, and forty-four favor bimetallism generally, with the proviso of an international agreement. Only fifteen can be fairly classed as favoring a single gold standard, and the attitude of some of these even is not definite. The south and far western states are almost unanimously for free coinage, the central states lean toward silver with international bimetallism qualifications, and it is only in New York, New England and adjacent eastern states that there are any avowedly gold standard men.

RUMORS FROM JAPAN

Count Ito's Retirement Resembling the Emmanuel Church Tragedies.

FATE OF SELLIE HARRINGTON.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—Another diabolical crime, bearing some resemblance to the tragedies of the Emmanuel church, was unearthed this afternoon by the discovery that Miss Sellie Harrington, aged 27, who occupies an upper flat at 1017 Ellis street, had been outraged and murdered in her bedroom, the door locked and her clothing and the furniture of the apartment then set on fire. All the drawers and boxes in the room were open and had been ransacked, several articles of jewelry and her purse having been stolen. Several lodgers occupy rooms in the flat, but none saw strangers about or heard any unusual sounds. Attention was first attracted by the smoke issuing from Miss Harrington's room. When her door was broken open, the heading of the room was found to be on fire, and beneath the smoldering clothes was the blood-stained body of Miss Harrington. The body of her body was badly burned, but the face had escaped the flames.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

Some Blows That Were Not at All Misapplied.

COME AND TAKE AWAY YOUR DOG

Laborers Wanted While Vagrants

Are Jailed—When My Bike

Thinks Itself a Gun.

Here are a few words of heartiest commendation for the editor of the Fresno Weekly Republican. To every blow that he struck I want to speak a cordial amen. A fellow named Boone had persecuted Scott's sister, to whom Boone was unknown with such evil and wicked and leering as his type of human seem to have always at command, so Scott pounded the face of the boomerang until it lost some of its bristly contour. And to every blow, an amen. One cannot but deprecate into that sort of creature, but a little can be enforced.

There had been a technical violation of law, and so Mr. Scott was fined, and the business men of Selma voluntarily paid his fine. They are not a bad lot, those business men of Selma; they know what should be done to the genus manster. There had been one of those cases where the case had been one of a choice between evils, and to impose a fine was a less evil than to compel a respectable young woman to testify in court to a contemptible scoundrel's impertinence.

I write some but for the sake of the subject because I feel forcibly. The editor, feeling and always infomous "manster" is not confined to Selma. He is in Fresno, he is everywhere, and he plays his trade with an occasional leering and a malicious grin. There is a look which this fellow can give which is so appalling a thing as hardly to be forcibly resisted, and yet it is recent history, that I could write anything to establish Mr. Scott's action as a precedent. I would feel that the time and space I have devoted to the subject had not been wasted. More blows of that kind are needed.

Here is a little notice that has appeared in the last two issues of the Republican:

"The person who took away the white bull terrier last Sunday from the hospital will please return him and avoid trouble."

That's all right, boys, but how is a man to do it? I don't want the dog; never did want it. What I do want is to get the hospital back to where it belongs. I don't want the dog; never did want it. What I do want is to get the hospital back to where it belongs.

FIFTY NOMINEES.

A School Convention Held Down

The whole world was searched for

of candidates to the square mile of the thriving place called Enston, some four or five miles north of Fresno. For some time there has been a lively inter-

election for a trustee for the district

school and a trustee for the Union high school. Candidates have been plentiful and as a result were left on the outside, and as a final resort, and as a means of settling the difficulty, it was decided to hold a convention and nominate candidates.

The convention was held at Enston last Monday evening. Politics were dropped out, and every man was for himself. That does not mean that every man voted for himself in the convention, but that every individual had ideas of his own, which of course was proper.

There were exactly fifty candidates

placed in nomination for the two offices.

This left very few to do the thing, and the fact that no candidate would want to vote for himself, the balloting was lively, however, and one by one the candidates fell by the wayside like leaves, until only two were left, and they were the choice for district trustee and R. P. Ferguson for high school trustee.
